WHAT IS A SACRISTY?

In Catholic churches, a Sacristy is a dedicated space where items essential for the celebration of the Liturgy (public worship) are stored, prepared, and maintained. At Saint John Neumann, we have two types of Sacristies.

The Work Sacristy contains a lot of the “nuts and bolts” needed for the celebration of Mass and other Sacraments - candles, censers (or thuribles), items for the ambo (for the Liturgy of the Word) and the altar (for the Liturgy of the Eucharist), various art pieces and so on. This space also involves the storage, cleaning and repair of these “sacred items.” It’s good stewardship of our resources to have a place for this to happen.

The Vesting Sacristy is similar and is where the various vestments and liturgical books are kept and maintained, but it has another purpose, as its name implies. Vesting directly involves people - the clergy, masters of ceremony and servers. In fact, our Church has a tradition dating back centuries that asks those who lead sacred worship to prepare themselves in prayer. This goes so far as to include specific, brief vesting prayers that are said as various items (the alb and amice, the stole, the cincture, and so on) are put on.

Just as it’s good practice to properly prepare objects used for sacred worship, it is even more so with the human beings who lead us in that worship.

At Saint John Neumann, we are updating the Vesting Sacristy to better provide a quiet, clean and safe environment for our ministers to prepare themselves for the sacred work of worship, and to return their vestments after use. Like the Gathering Space in churches (or Narthex), it also serves as a “threshold” between the profane, secular world and the space that has been consecrated (literally) for us, so we may all take part in the public worship of Almighty God.
